

Adrien Protzel
protzela@oregonstate.edu

Project #6

Loading in the OBJ was much easier by reusing the framework of previous objects in the past projects. This was also easier by following the step through guide provided by the homework. Adding in some variables and I made a python swallowing a pig where the head enlarges and the bulge travels down the length and slowly reduces like its digesting.

Video Link